Toastmasters Learning Connection

Session Overview:

This session covers how to use the judge's guide and ballot.

Directions:

Print a copy of this worksheet. As you view the session, choose the correct responses.
Fill in the blanks:

1. The Judge's Guide and Ballot is comprised of $\qquad$ parts.
2. The bottom part is the $\qquad$ ballot and must be $\qquad$ showing three different names and your signature as the judge.
3. The bottom part of the ballot is given to the $\qquad$ -
4. To eliminate bias, one suggestion is to refrain from using the $\qquad$ during the speech.
5. After totaling your points, if there is a tie, use $\qquad$ to refine your scoring.
6. Speech contest judges must always $\qquad$ their own ties.
7. There are three basic judging categories: $\qquad$ , and $\qquad$ .
8. The $\qquad$ category is worth 50 percent of the speech points. It determines the quality of the speaker's message - its $\qquad$
$\qquad$ and $\qquad$ -
9. The $\qquad$ category is worth 30 percent of the speech points. It is about the way the content of the speech is presented. It is both $\qquad$ and $\qquad$ -
10. The speaker's $\qquad$
$\qquad$ and $\qquad$ are all part of his physical delivery.
11. The speaker's flexibility and volume have to do with $\qquad$ .
12. The language category is worth $\qquad$ percent of the speech points.

Toastmasters Learning Connection

13. Within the language category, judges consider both $\qquad$ and $\qquad$ .
14. Judges consider the appropriateness of the speech to its $\qquad$ and to the $\qquad$ being addressed.
15. As part of the language category, the contestants' $\qquad$ or word choice, is judged.

Choose the correct answer.
16. Which of the following questions does not have to do with a speech's development?
a. Is the purpose clear and well defined?
b. Is the speech structured with a clearly defined opening, body, and conclusion?
c. Is the subject matter clear to the audience?
17. Which of the following questions does not have to do with a speech's effectiveness?
a. Is the purpose clear and well defined?
b. Is the subject matter clear to the audience?
c. Does the speaker's message contribute to the listeners' knowledge and stimulate their thinking?
18. Which of the following questions does not have to do with a speech's value?
a. Does the speaker's message contribute to the listeners' knowledge and stimulate their thinking?
b. Does the speaker have something to say - a clearly defined message?
c. Is the purpose clear and well defined? Is the subject matter clear to the audience?

Toastmasters Learning Connection

Notes:
$\qquad$
$\qquad$
$\qquad$
$\qquad$
$\qquad$
$\qquad$
$\qquad$
$\qquad$
$\qquad$
$\qquad$
$\qquad$
$\qquad$

