ROCKVILLE RESIDENT ELECTED TO TOASTMASTERS INTERNATIONAL BOARD

RANCHO SANTA MARGARITA, Calif. (September 2007) – Kristin Nicholson of Rockville, Maryland, has been elected to the Board of Directors of Toastmasters International, a worldwide, nonprofit organization teaching skills in public speaking and leadership. Toastmasters members elected her to the two-year volunteer term during the organization's recent 76th annual International Convention in Phoenix.

A dedicated Toastmaster for many years, Nicholson has held a number of distinguished leadership positions within the organization.

A litigation attorney for Flynn and Rismiller, LLC, a professional corporate trainer and a former auditor for a CPA firm, Nicholson brings legal, organizational and judiciary expertise to her position on the Board.

Nicholson met her husband in Toastmasters and says she is “a better person due to the service, leadership experiences and friendships I’ve had in Toastmasters.” She has provided legal pro bono work for veterans and the elderly and participates in charity events such as Special Olympics, Meals-On-Wheels and Habitat for Humanity.

Since its founding in 1924, Toastmasters International has helped four million men and women develop their communication and leadership skills. Because a growing number of people realize the importance of these skills for career advancement, Toastmasters International has doubled its membership in the last 10 years. The organization now has approximately 226,000 members in 11,500 clubs in 91 countries.
