GEORGIA RESIDENT APPOINTED TO TOASTMASTERS INTERNATIONAL BOARD

RANCHO SANTA MARGARITA, CA – Lee Holliday, of Johns Creek, Georgia, has been appointed to the Board of Directors of Toastmasters International, a worldwide, nonprofit organization teaching skills in public speaking and leadership. He was appointed to the two-year volunteer term on September 3, 2007.

A dedicated Toastmaster for many years, Holliday has held a number of distinguished leadership positions within the organization – most recently that of District Governor for Georgia Toastmasters.

Holliday works for Ingenix Consulting as a Client Relationship Manager. He earned a bachelor's degree in sociology and holds professional designations in the field of human resources. As a member of Toastmasters Board of Directors, Holliday will participate in policy-making decisions and serve as a resource for the seven Toastmasters leadership teams – or districts -- that comprise the Southeastern United States.

“I have a passion for Toastmasters because this organization has made a difference in my life,” says Holliday. “Through Toastmasters, we can have a positive influence on our communities and the world. I’m proud to be a part of that.”

Since its founding in 1924, Toastmasters International has helped four million men and women develop their communication and leadership skills – skills that, in turn, have helped countless people lead more successful lives. The organization now has 226,000 members in 11,000 clubs in 91 countries.
