

Smedley Fund Subsidy Application

Youth Leadership Program

Toastmasters International's Youth Leadership Program has a long history of success in schools and after-school programs as a means of introducing students to the basics of communication and leadership development. Toastmasters members and clubs interested in sponsoring a Youth Leadership workshop may request subsidized program materials by completing and submitting this form.

1. Please describe the youth demographic this subsidy will aid, including the number of prospective participants, the venue, and the reason subsidization is required.

2. Materials costs for any Youth Leadership workshops subsidized by Toastmasters International constitute an investment in a youth group's progress in their education, and in their growth and development as leaders and effective communicators. Please explain how, as the sponsor of said group, you can reasonably assure that enough interested youths will remain with the program to justify the expense.
